Mr. Emil Enders, the well known German-American citizen, and a prominent tuilor of this city, residing at No. 1229 Enst Main Street, says: "Several years my wife has been seriously afficted with imperfect vision, and at times her eyes pained her dreadfully. It was impossible for her to sew, because she could not see the stitches. She has used a number of different kinds of glasses without any relief, and at the very time she was most dependent, upon her glasses they would fail her. I read the testimonial of a lady who had suffered just as my wife was affected, and how she was pleased with the method of prescription glasses of Charles-Lincoln Smith. I advised my wife to go at once and consult him. This she did, and I am proud to say that her vision is now perfect, and he has made by his method a grand success of her case, for which I am sincerely grateful.

was postponed until December 12th, at 5 P. M.

Mr. Bolling was not present to receive the news of his election. The president of the board announced that he had been told by Mr. Bolling that his policy, if elected, would be to make no removals in the force. Mr. Kemper remains as clerk of the board, Mr. Morgan as first assistant superintendent, and so on Mr. Bolling will enter upon the duties of his office on January 1st. Mr. Helms has been superintendent for six years, and succeeded Mr. Lynn.

Heretofors the election of superintendent of the penitentiary has been in the hands of the General Assembly, but the Constitutional Convention changed that and increased the number of the members of the board of directors from three to five, and placed in their hands the election of superintendent. The board also elects the prison and farm surgeons, who were formerly appointed by the Governor. The board also chooses the farm manager and the farm management, but under the same board.

An acute throat trouble is ascribed as the immediate cause of the death of Mr.
Davies, though he had for several days a high favor, it is understood that both the ladies have symptoms, if not avowed cases, of typhoid.

Mr. Davies retirred from active business life some years ago. Since he had been engaged in managing his property and doing some literary work, it is understood. His father, the late John W.
Davies, was among the first to open a photograph gallery in Richmond. Upon the death of the father the son succeeded to the conduct of the Lee Gallery, which had a large and well deserved patronage.
Since, retiring Mr. Davies led a quiet life, but one, surrounded by his devoted wife and attractive daughters, which he greatly enjoyed. He took great interest in St. John's Church, was one of its most devoted communicants. He rarely missed a service.

The fumoral will take place from the church to-morrow afternoon at 8 o'clock, conducted by St. John's rector, Rev. R.

Extraordinary Sale of Black Guaranteed Silks.

All other store news gives way to-day before the supreme importance of a silk event which bids fair to break the record established by our October sale, when over a hundred pieces went in a single day.

Here you have choice of over 2,000,000 dollars' worth of sensible, seasonable, serviceable silks at prices that makers and merchants may call ridiculous for such goods just when the demand for them is greatest.

But when a thing, much wanted, comes at a bargain figure, doesn't one appreciate it then more than at any other time? That's our reason for the sale just now. And here's a synopsis of it:

"Gilt Edge" Black Guaranteed Taffeta, 21 inches, "Gilt Edge" Black Guaranteed Taffeta, 23 inches, $1.39 "Gilt Edge" Black Guaranteed Taffeta, 27 inches, "Our Own Brand" Black Guaranteed Taffeta, 19 inches wide. has Fourqurean, Temple & Co. woven on every yard,
